OUR COMPANY

We are a small, friendly company with a unique position: We provide interactive communications for consultants advising Fortune 500 clients. We help IT and business consultants create the design, content, and experience to succeed with the most important client engagements. Since we're small, our employees have greater opportunity to be closer to the business end of the project, and there is a lot of growth potential. Team members may work in more than one expertise, gaining more experience as generalists until the company grows to allow specialization. So our ideal candidates are entrepreneurial, smart (fast learners), they enjoy the flexibility of a small business environment, and they know how to adapt and succeed in a wide variety of corporate cultures.

THE COMPENSATION

- The salary range is DOE + production bonuses
- Healthcare benefits
- Paid vacation
- Occasional free lunch
